A fine, sunny but cold day kept the going pretty firm until the frost thawed then things got interesting. Section 7 took most of the marks keeping Steve's pen busy. Only Ben Measures and Mick Ash keeping clean sheets all day. I retired following a pinched tube on the front wheel and Andy Smith's move to High Tech ignition was stumped by a ill fitting taper! Pete Hyphen-Monk marked his sporting decline, before reaching his 50th birthday, by being beaten for the first time by George Cox. But thanks for the cakes! Thanks to the observers, we hope your toes warmed up soon.

Charles Smith was a non starter after breaking his collar bone (3rd time) playing rugby the day before. And they say motor cycles are dangerous! We wish him a speedy recovery.

Please remember our next trial (Riley's) has moved to 1st March. Then 2 weeks later at Uppingham on the 15th.

Observer's Raffle: Won by Colin on section 2
