Well, what a day! We've only used the cutting at Vickers once before and it's shady aspect stopped the frosty surface from thawing out until a little before lunch - but, boy, did that change things. Pete admits it was a bit tighter than normal but most sections turned into skid pan like conditions. Stuart keeping to single figures for the day is little short of amazing! Ben's score was definitely hampered by snapping his handlebars in half shortly before the end. Some (me included) decided retirement was the best form of survival so well done to all finishers (13 of the 20 starters).

Thanks to the retiring riders for picking up observer boards - we were very light on observers - it is much appreciated.

Observer's Raffle: Won by Graham on multiple sections :)
